The Wonder of the Age.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION!

The Only Genuine and Original

IS THE

NORTH AMERICAN ELECTRIC

WASHING FLUID,

For Washing in either Hard or Soft Water

THIS is the only genuine article to be found in the world [illegible] possesses [illegible] anything ever discovered for washing clothes at a trifling expense, doing away with washboards at once. In fact it seems to be the long sought [illegible] magical preparation [illegible] may be done with one gill of the Fluid in less than two hours. It softens and removes the dirt leaving the articles of the most brilliant whiteness, it being as harmless in its operations as pure water, and clothing will wear much longer than when rubbed [illegible] by the common method of washing.

This Fluid is a powerful agent to be used in all cases where soap is required, particularly for cleansing milk utensils, cleaning windows and paint, scouring floors. In short it is beyond a precedent [illegible] in the washing world

N. B.—All Colored Goods are rendered brighter by being washed in this Fluid. All Woolens are less liable to shrink and thereby rendered much softer than in the old way of washing.

None genuine unless the Labels contain their signature.

The above article is warranted by the Manufacturers not to contain soda, lime, camphene, burning fluid or acids of any kind, but to be purely an alkaline preparation of the most powerful character possessing more than double the washing power of anything ever discovered. Being perfectly harmless in vapor without possessing the caustic properties of the miserable articles which flood the market, and in many instances disgust the people to that degree that they are unwilling to try a good article when it really is to be found. The proprietors only ask a fair trial of this article, and are perfectly willing to forfeit any amount for a single failure in any instance where it is used.

MISCELLANEOUS

[From the Boston Transcript.]

The Palace of Glass—No. 3.

LONDON, May 16 1851. The French have exhibited more [illegible] and displayed better taste [illegible] of the products of Fine Arts [illegible] of their neighbors—Next to them the Russians and Austrians, [illegible] the variety and quality. Some of the statuary from the former [illegible] originals I have had the great pleasure of seeing in the several countries where they were elaborated [illegible] Russia [illegible] by the side of the United States in the order of [illegible] from east to west [illegible] to present what [illegible] government [illegible] Russia has done well and [illegible] exceeded the expectations of those who looked [illegible] covered up ten feet [illegible] six months in twelve, raising [illegible] for subjugating [illegible] Julius Cæsar style the whole world to the sway of Nicholas the first. Such elegant fabrics [illegible] in that collection show that genius, the skill to execute, and just conceptions of the truly beautiful in nature, is confined to no country, or dependent upon any [illegible]

Considerable attention is being given on one occasion to the model of a bridge, the principle of which was simply to permit the ordinary highway travel to pass over at a land level while a railroad track [illegible] led a Massachusetts man [illegible] to observe that a bridge of precisely [illegible] had been [illegible] the Merrimac river, at Newburyport [illegible] true gratify [illegible] have it. Another [illegible] an engineer enquired [illegible] models of the American docks [illegible] world over [illegible] had not been forwarded by the government [illegible] I heard a man inquire what the reason was there were no models of the famous clipper boats and fast sailers from the United States. You perceive by these questions that the impression abroad is simply this, that for some unexplained cause, nothing has come to hand that should have come illustrative of the true state of American [illegible] arts of civilization or industry in the year of Our Lord 1851.

Having just taken up a decent pen and put myself in a very comfortable position for continuing the subject of the exhibition a messenger arrived explaining the duties I am expected to perform and the place where the jury of grave examiners are to hold their conferences, which has fairly interrupted the further progress of this communication for an hour or two at least.

P. S. On reporting myself at the appropriate bureau it was extremely gratifying to learn that I am to be associated with I. K. Brunel, F. R. S. chairman, a son of the celebrated engineer of the Thames tunnel—who has distinguished himself as the projector of the movement of a speed of sixty miles an hour on one of the railroads and [illegible] ultimately identified with all the great public works of England; Dr. Neil Arnott, a distinguished author on physics and [illegible] of useful knowledge; M. Combes [illegible] of the National Institute; M. Conrad, of Holland, president of the Royal Institution of Engineers; J. M. Rendal—a civil engineer; William Tite, F. R. S. an architect and Count Rosven, of Sweden. The special object assigned to the Committee is the consideration and analysis of the various labor saving machines, but especially, to report on all the plans, schemes, models and suggestions presented in regard to improvements in railroads.

One of the first subjects developed the fact that this subject was one of the greatest importance in every community throughout the habitable parts of the globe, as it is the extension of these iron roads all through the world, the civilization [illegible] accompaniments, of such marked value to the progress of humanity are to be [illegible] throughout the length and breadth of the earth. No commission could have as [illegible] so well as a rare opportunity is thus presented for gathering the views and individual opinions of these most celebrated engineers on the various projects of railroad improvements that will be submitted for their decision and I shall treasure it all up—being fully persuaded that anything learned from such an elevated source may be of consequence in New England and I have interest enough at stake in several roads to make it an object to discover what is proper and economical as well as what may be based in ignorance or sustained by the dogged obstinacy of penny wise or pound foolish directors.

Models of roads, bridges, viaducts, abutments, excavations, &c [illegible] congregated from all points of compass but ours.

A model of the viaduct at Canton, on the Boston and Providence road,—the ingeniously framed bridges on the Salem road, in Lynn, sections of the Great Western road over the mountains, a model of the proposed tunnel on the Greenfield road through the mountain at Williamstown,—a project that should be sustained by every possible [illegible]—views of the tunnels and specimens of the rocks penetrated on the Alleghanies, the suspension bridge at Philadelphia, the one at Wheeling over the Ohio and especially that at Niagara, with memorials of the difficulties overcome by the processes of art in hundreds of other places in the United States would have redounded to the character of American enterprise,—and yet, not one of them is represented in the exhibition.

London is not overrun with strangers, as expected—there is room for more, though the influx at the Crystal Palace shows that the curiosity of all nations has been excited. On the register I discovered perhaps 8 or 10 names from Boston and from the whole United States not far from 200. The best places to meet our countrymen is at the American Minister's—His cordiality puts every one at ease. If the American Consuls in Italy and the Orient had the milk of human kindness in them, as our diplomatic representatives have in an eminent degree, at the various courts of Europe, the United States would no longer be supposed, as it now is in many circles abroad, a demi civilized country, made up of a mixed race of negroes and Indians. Many of these abominable officials can neither read, write or speak the English language!

They are a disgrace to our government, and despised by their own acquaintance, yet suffered to prey upon those travellers whom they theoretically protect. Abbas Pasha, Viceroy of Egypt who, thick skinned as he is, seems to love a good joke, on some state occasion, not long since, when all the Consuls of the different powers called to pay their respects, noticed the little mean puppy of a Levantine, one of his own subjects, cringingly approaching the divan, who is honored by being the Vice Consul of the United States. "I hope," said his high turbaned excellency, "that your master the King of the United States is in good health?" What was better still, it was reported that the squint-eyed sponge d[illegible] not actually know whether the country had a King or not. At Athens in Greece our Consul is a Greek and though a fine man, educated in Georgia it is rather perplexing to be asked if we have no native born citizens capable of discharging the duties of a Consulate where we have distant commercial intercourse J T C S

Temperance Lectures by Mr. Kellogg.

We learn that the energetic and whole heart ed apostle and advocate of the cause of temperance F W Kellogg will in the course of next week deliver a course of three lectures on temperance in this city prior to his visit to England which he is soon to make for the purpose of lecturing

Just at this time little need be said in public lectures relative to the necessity and application of law for restricting the sale of intoxicating drinks since the law so emphatically speaks for itself and since about everybody in the community is in favor of its being fully enforced But there is yet a great work to be accomplished by the friends of temperance in the way of reform among drinkers of all the various types and shades from the young man who only occasionally sips a little wine as a social glass to the besotted man wallowing in the gutter — To remove the sale of liquor in our city is the work of the law and which should actively engage the attention of the city authorities To save men from drunkenness is the work of kindly effort of the friends of temperance operating upon the mind and the heart, and the various motives which prompt men to virtuous habits

There is a use then for temperance lectures in our city, and as the attention of the public is turned to the evils of intemperance by the recent passage of a strong law it seems a favorable time for the discussion of the subject of temperance by so able a lecturer as Mr Kellogg

It is well known that Mr Kellogg has labored for several years exclusively in the temperance cause in various parts of the country, but without being able to accumulate property He has an opportunity to visit England under favorable auspices and to enable him to do so it is necessary that his friends here and elsewhere should make up a purse for him We feel therefore, that it is right and proper to make an appeal in his behalf to the friends of the temperance cause in this city In order to raise the sum which ought to be tendered to Mr Kellogg under the present circumstances it will be necessary to charge a small admission fee at his lectures and we trust in addition that the true and faithful women of our city who have long labored in that cause, will find encouragement to give a tea party in behalf of this enterprise of benevolence. At any rate all friends must take hold and do what they can to help forward the matter and give Mr Kellogg a generous welcome and bid him go forth on his mission with a light and happy heart.

The lectures will probably be delivered on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week.

A NEW INSTRUMENT OF DESTRUCTION. A rifle capable of firing 25 balls every minute including the time of loading, was recently exhibited in Newark N J and is supposed to be an important improvement in fire arms — Under the barrel in the place of the ordinary ramrod, is an iron tube containing the 25 balls and by cocking the gun a ball is brought up in the barrel and the same operation also brings up from the breech a "pill" of priming The charge of powder is contained in the ball which is not round but oblong and having an opening which is corked after the powder has been introduced The quantity of powder is only 28 grains and drives the ball with greater force than the large charge in an ordinary gun

☞ The Pittsburg Gazette bids us remember that the man whose business has a fair proportion of capital at its foundation who never engages in uncertain speculations, and who advertises judiciously and freely, never fails — The want of these requisites will endanger his situation, but the want of advertising is the greatest want of the three A judicious man with little or no capital, by a free use of advertising may prosper and create capital, while the man with capital who neglects advertising may find his business gradually declining, and his capital diminishing year by year Fifty dollars a year spent in advertising is of more value to a business man than three thousand dollars additional capital

☞ We learn that the Roman Catholic Church have purchased the large and beautiful square of land on the corner of Broadway and Somerset streets of Hon Charles Stetson for the sum of $3000, for the purpose of erecting thereon a splendid cathedral, to excel any church in the city It is stated that the lot on the corner of Somerset and French streets, adjoining the north half of this cathedral lot, has been conditionally engaged on which to erect a parsonage house

Schooner Margaret—A Prize.

The steamer Governor was delayed yesterday for several hours in her arrival in this city occasioned by her falling in off Seguin with the Sch Margaret of Penobscot abandoned The Governor towed the schooner into Rockland She did not leak, but her bowsprit and fore rigging had been torn up and injured probably in a collision with some other vessel in the night time and the extent of damage not ascertained, before her abandonment.

☞ The Worcester Spy says that Hon John P Hale has consented to deliver an oration on the occasion of the Free Soil Convention of the 4th of July in that place The celebration is to be of a strictly partisan character

☞ Mr William Lyston, of Boston has recently painted two beautiful Portraits for Dr W——— and lady of Gardiner Me., for which he received a suitable compensation besides a present to himself and lady of a silver goblet as a mark of satisfaction and esteem

☞ The Lowell Courier publishes a paper numerously signed by the young men of Lowell tendering to Mr Webster, in acknowledgment of his eminent services a cordial invitation to visit that city at his earliest convenience

☞ The work on the unfinished portion of the Kennebec and Portland Railroad is now steadily advancing towards its completion — The Gardiner Transcript states that the cars will run in about one month to a point on the river, four miles below Gardiner

☞ The International Monthly Magazine for June, by Messrs Stringer & Townsend has been received from the attentive agents of the work in Boston Messrs Fetridge & Co and copies may be obtained in this city at the bookstore of D Bugbee

☞ Jenny Lind will give the first of a new series of concerts in Boston on Wednesday evening June 18

☞ The recent heavy rains have damaged the Pennsylvania State canals so as to interrupt navigation in some places. The damage will be repaired this week

☞ Three large failures among the cotton manufacturers at Providence, R. I., have occurred within the last week

☞ We have received Nos 30 and 31 of the Dictionary of Mechanics Engine work and Engineering now in course of publication by Messrs D Appleton & Co subscriptions for which are taken by Messrs E F Duren & Co where separate numbers may also be obtained

HYDROPATHIC ENCYCLOPEDIA A SYSTEM OF HYDROPATHY AND HYGIENE In eight parts Designed as a guide to families and students and a text book for physicians By R T Trall M D with numerous engraved illustrations New York Fowlers & Wells — 1851

We have received from Wm Lewis the first part of a work with the above title now in the course of publication It is the design of this work to bring together all the facts and principles in medicine pertaining to the Philosophy of Life and Health and the Water Cure Treatment of Diseases

The progress that disease is making owing to the frequent and gross violations of the laws of nature in the daily living of mankind and the monstrous absurdities which have crept into the healing art serve to give value to a work of this kind. Disease has become so common that it begins to be deemed about as important for every family to be able to treat disease as to prepare food for the healthy subject

The entire work of eight parts of over one hundred pages each may be obtained for $2 00

Subscriptions received at the bookstore of Wm Lewis

FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF ENGLAND AND ITS PEOPLE By Hugh Miller author of the "Footprints of the Creator," "The Old Red Sandstone," etc. Boston Gould & Lincoln — 1851 pp 430

This is a handsome volume from the pen of one well known as an able author on the science of Geology He is a man of deep thought and of close observation with a masterly power in the description of natural scenery and works of art. His journey into the midland districts of England gave him a fine opportunity to observe the habits and social condition of many of the humbler classes and he has portrayed them in a manner to increase his already high reputation. His interweaving of valuable facts and useful information refreshes and strengthens the mind with wholesome instruction so that his work amuses and enlightens His close observation and his happy faculty of relating what he has observed lets in a flood of light upon the manners and manners of England and the English

This book may be purchased at the bookstore of Messrs E F Duren & Co in this city

THE DREAM CHINTZ By the author of "A Trap to catch a Sunbeam" "Old Jolliffe" and "Sequel to Old Jolliffe" "A Merry Christmas" etc Boston James Munroe & Company 1851

We have received a neat little volume with the above title from the publishing house mentioned in the imprint. It bears the same sterling marks of clear and accurate descriptions of nature and of life the same deep quiet thought and the same heart-ennobling suggestions which have marked the other very popular and very interesting and useful productions of the same pen. We wish that everybody would read this and the kindred works of the author until they became imbued with their tender and elevating spirit, and instead of being forever in antagonism would keep upon the bright and hopeful side of those they would influence and learn to draw instead of driving

This work is for sale at Messrs E F Duren & Co s

LUCY'S HALF CROWN HOW SHE EARNED IT AND HOW SHE SPENT IT With some hints on the art of making people happy without money A tale in two parts By Catharine M A Couper, author of "Visits to Beech-wood Farm" &c. Boston James Munroe & Co 1851

This is a pleasant little volume, the object of which is very well set forth in the title The story is well calculated to inspire the mind with many of the modes in which the loving spirit and a willing hand and the sympathies and right directed heart may do good in our world, and plant the seeds of a happy influence which shall yield fruit for long years

The work may be found at E F Duren & Co s

Sagacious enterprising business men are too well aware of all the aids to be employed for their success, to neglect the chief, which is advertising And no purchasers are so blind, as not to see that those men who are most enterprising, are continually and systematically advertising and the best men to deal with — Newport Courier.

So high is the monkey esteemed in India that temples are erected to his honor One of these, a large magnificent structure in the Island of Ceylon, was plundered by the Portuguese who took from it an ape's tooth heavily incased in pure gold, and for the ransom of which the natives offered 700,000 ducats. At Ahmedabad, the capital of Guzerat, there are three hospitals for monkeys, where the sick and lame are nursed by salaried attendants.

HON. GEORGE EVANS.

George Evans holds a high rank among the living statesmen of America. In that brilliant constellation of orators jurists and politicians which enroll among its members the names of Webster Clay, Calhoun Cass, Benton and a host of others scarcely less distinguished He occupies a prominent position Scarcely passed the middle life he has risen to great eminence in his profession as a lawyer as a statesman and a legislator he has acquired high distinction and at the same time he is regarded as a profound and accomplished scholar

Maine may well be proud of Mr Evans for it must be acknowledged that he is her most gifted son. Indeed New England may reasonably feel honored by his name, for she can boast few prouder ones among all her noble family of great men In strength of intellect vast powers of analysis elevation of great faculties to practical ends force and command of logic and skill in conducting an argument — in all these combined he is second to no man in New England nor in the whole Union In lofty flights of oratory and in brilliant rhetorical displays he is surpassed by Mr Webster who indeed surpasses all other orators ancient or modern In the gorgeous imagery of word painting he is excelled by Edward Everett who is facile princeps in that department

In a certain kind of specious brilliancy (to which he lays no claim,) he is doubtless exceeded by many but in strength of expression, force and consistency of language and in the directness and comprehensiveness of his arguments—whether at the bar or in the legislative hall—he is not surpassed I will venture to assert, by Mr Webster or any other man

Though he never seeks distinction otherwise, than in a faithful discharge of his duties in every position and under all circumstances though he never aims at outward display merely to catch the eye and please the casual observer, yet no one who has traced him in his career—both in public and private life—can avoid an impression of his intellectual greatness and that his is one of the first minds of the age

We have many public men who are as widely known—perhaps more so—as Mr Evans, but who are vastly inferior to him in ability and attainments, It is a well known fact that notoriety is no reliable evidence of real strength and greatness Were this the criterion by which we must judge of a man's merit we should be obliged to accord to Mr London Punch, Barnum and even to Gen Tom Thumb the meed of greatness

It has been justly remarked that he is a great man who is prepared and armed for every emergency who finds himself sufficient for any position to which he may be called and who is able to repel assaults as to make them This idea is strikingly illustrated in Mr Evans's public life The more weighty his responsibilities the more arduous his duties the more difficult his position the better advantage has he shown himself

Mr Evans's name and services are not unknown in any quarter of the country yet his reputation high as it is is not commensurate with his real merit A mind like his cannot be read at a glance its breadth and depth cannot at once be measured Merely saying that he has been long in public life—that he has been a member of the Maine Legislature and of the U S House of Representatives—that he has served with credit in the U S Senate—that his character as a statesman is well established and defined—is speaking well of him without doing him full justice He is a man who has done his State and country some real service —who has discharged his duties with more than ordinary ability and fidelity in every position he has held

It is not my intention to attempt an appraisement of Mr Evans's character as a lawyer or a statesman but merely to give a brief sketch of his career

Mr Evans was born January 12 1797 He received his course of instruction preparatory to college partly at the Monmouth and partly at the Hallowell Academy At the time he attended these institutions he was noted for close attention to his studies for his apt and vigorous mind and for his genuine kind and generosity He entered Bowdoin College in 1811 and graduated in 1815 Upon leaving college he entered immediately on the study of the law which he pursued thoroughly and industriously for three years At the expiration of this term he commenced practice in Gardiner under very flattering circumstances He very soon took a high stand in his profession having the highest prospects before him for great eminence at the bar But he was not long allowed to devote his attention exclusively to his professional pursuits He was returned to the Maine House of Representatives at the age of 25 For four consecutive sessions he was a member of the same body—the last session Speaker of the House—discharging his duties during that period with great credit to himself and to the entire satisfaction of his friends

In July 1829 he was elected to the House of Representatives in Congress in which he held a seat for six consecutive Congresses embracing a period of 12 years Even though a member elect to the House for the seventh term, he was elected to a seat in the Senate for a full term

While in the House he was one of its ablest and most industrious members, ever ready to perform his part fully and faithfully However he was known to falter and flag in his support of a measure he had set himself to sustain In debates on financial questions he was a prominent participator, displaying a ripe judgment, and a vast knowledge of political economy and the machinery of government. In the Senate his course was onward and onward There as in the House he elected the admiration and surprise of his associates by the masterly manner in which he handled and illustrated the most abstruse financial questions Of his speeches on the tariff it may be said as has been remarked of Macaulay's Essays that they are masterly treatises His able vindication of the tariff act of 42 and his successful refutation of the free trade doctrine elicited the praise and commendation of our most distinguished public men In speaking of Mr Evans's knowledge of the finances of the country, as his Senatorial term was about expiring, Mr Webster said, that he understood that subject as well as any gentleman connected with the government since the days of Crawford and Gallatin, say as well as either of those gentlemen ever understood it. And Mr Clay paid him an equally high compliment. The leading men of the opposition have also entertained high respect for him as a scholar and statesman So eminently fitted is he to fill the Treasury Department, that the friends of Protection have long manifested a desire to see him in that position No man in the country is better qualified for the station—and few so well.

After the expiration of his Senatorial term, he returned to Gardiner and resumed the practice of his profession While in public life his private interests had suffered from the strictness with which he had devoted himself to his official business His release from his public duties, seemed to increase his professional business in a great degree His powerful defence of Coolidge—one of the most splendid and convincing arguments ever made at the American bar—greatly added to his already brilliant fame as a lawyer It fully established his reputation as the ablest advocate in Maine But he was not long allowed to remain undisturbed in private life In 1849 he was appointed by President Taylor as Chairman of the Board of Commissioners on Mexican Claims This was a very responsible and delicate position The Commission have just terminated their services, to the acceptance of the government, and the general satisfaction of all concerned. Mr Evans was offered the Chargeship to Nicaragua, which he declined to accept. He was also offered a seat as Chairman of the Commission on California Lands, which he likewise declined for private reasons. Mr Evans is again in private life How long he will remain so or to what important post the country will next call him is uncertain It is sincerely hoped the country will not long be without his valuable services in a position where they are most needed JUSTITIA

STRAW WRAPPING PAPER.—All sizes at WM. LEWIS'.

WHITE MOUNTAIN
STATION HOUSE,
Peabody River, Gorham, N. H.
THIS capacious and elegant establishment, just erected expressly to accommodate travellers to the WHITE MOUNTAINS, will be opened on the first day of July next.

This House is situated on the line of the Atlantic and St Lawrence Railroad, in the valley of the Androscoggin River, at the junction of the Peabody River and the Moose River with the Androscoggin, and at the immediate base of the White Mountain Range, on the northeast side.

The confluence of these valleys at this point,—affords the most beautiful and imposing views of the Mountains in various directions, and a more expeditious and easy access to the summit of Mt WASHINGTON and other peaks, than can be obtained from any other quarter.

The House is but FOUR HOURS ride distant from Portland, and FIVE HOURS from Boston, by daily railroad trains over the Eastern, Boston and Maine, and Atlantic and St Lawrence roads.

An excellent public highway, suitable for Carriages of all descriptions, extends from this House seven miles up the Valley of the Peabody river to the eastern base of Mount Washington. At this point a convenient public house is now erecting for the accommodation of persons ascending the mountains. The actual ascent on this side, can be accomplished with remarkable facility.

The valley of the Peabody River, in its entire length, passes along the whole eastern base of the range, affording very near and uninterrupted views of all the great peaks, and of the remarkable ravines and gorges between them. The valley of the Moose river affords equally near and most attractive views on the north side. Tourists and artists of the most competent taste have pronounced the scenery upon the northern and eastern sides of the Mountains, to be much more wild, rugged and truly Alpine, than any presented on the other sides.—Pedestrians can make the ascent of Mount Washington from the Peabody river, and return, in from 6 to 8 hours.

To facilitate the ascent, a safe and convenient bridle path is to be opened to the summit of Mount Washington. From the central position of this House, at the confluence of great mountain valleys, the finest drives can be enjoyed in all directions, upon good carriage roads, affording new and imposing views of the Mountains at every turn. The numerous mountain streams and lakes in the immediate vicinity abound in trout.

Six miles north of the House, upon the line of the Railroad, and accessible also by a carriage road are the celebrated BERLIN FALLS, on the Androscoggin, the most remarkable cataract in New England. The completion of the Atlantic and St Lawrence railroad to this station, opens an entirely new easy and cheap route to the Mountains, on the north and east side,—while the remarkable PINKHAM NOTCH, extending southward from this house, along the whole eastern base of the Range, affords a convenient access to the valley of the Saco, and thence to the celebrated CRAWFORD NOTCH. Tourists from all parts of the country will find this the most expeditious and agreeable route for visiting the Mountains.

There is no Stage travel on the Route. Passengers are landed from the cars directly at the house. The Railroad train from Boston and Portland every day, will afford constant communication to and from the mountains. The Proprietors of the House will make arrangements with the Telegraph Companies and with Longley's Express, by which despatches and other communications can be transmitted to and from all parts of the country for the convenience of visitors.

The House is large and commodious, constructed with great regard to architectural elegance, and with all the conveniences of a first class Hotel.—It has one hundred and eight sleeping rooms, and is newly and thoroughly finished throughout.

Families can be accommodated with suites of rooms.

The Proprietors having leased the House for a term of years, will do all in their power to promote the comfort and pleasure of their guests, and can promise a well supplied table, and clean and well ventilated rooms at moderate charges. In connection with the House is a large LIVERY STABLE, where good Horses and Carriages,—and Saddle Horses will be furnished at all times.

Also good Bathing rooms for the convenience of visitors.

MRS. S. A. HAYES, } Proprietors.

Cape Cottage Re-opened.
ON the first day of May, this long celebrated MARINE VILLA, which with the Stables, Sheds, Bowling Alleys, &c., has been entirely rebuilt in a new style of architecture, fitted to the scenery of the neighborhood, was re-opened for summer boarders and transient company, on all days (Sabbaths excepted, when no transient visitors will be received on any account)—the intention of the subscriber being to establish for the House a high character, so as to engage the hearty co-operation of all who may need repose, refreshment, sea bathing, pleasant drives and walks, boating, fishing, bowling &c. &c. Being built on the outer shore of Cape Elizabeth, all open to the sea, with vessels passing and re-passing all hours, and nearly under the windows; the White Hills of New Hampshire in full view on one side with the United States Forts, water batteries, harbor and shipping of Portland city and the broad ocean on the other, CAPE COTTAGE has long been regarded as one of the most beautiful and picturesque watering places in the world. By the kind notice of Mr. George Combe, in a book of travels in the United States, who spent a summer at this place, it has acquired a high reputation abroad.
The location is all that can be required for resort to the invalid or persons for pleasure; and the subscriber will not fail in his endeavors to make it in all respects deserving of the public.
P. S. Being only three miles from Portland, conveyance can be had at any time.

Another Scientific Wonder!

DR J. S. HOUGHTON'S Great Dyspepsia Curer!

THE TRUE

DIGESTIVE FLUID, OR Gastric Juice,

PREPARED from RENNET, or the fourth STOMACH OF THE OX, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

This is a Great Natural Remedy for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, curing after Nature's own Method, by Nature's own Agent, the Gastric Juice. PEPSIN is the chief element, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming an ARTIFICIAL DIGESTIVE FLUID, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.—By the aid of this preparation the pains and evils of Indigestion and Dyspepsia are removed just as they would be by a healthy Stomach. It is doing wonders for Dyspeptics, curing cases of Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline and Dyspeptic Consumption, supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The Scientific Evidence upon which it is based is in the highest degree curious and remarkable.

Baron LIEBIG in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid analogous to the Gastric Juice may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Ox, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach."

Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin infused in water will digest or dissolve Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

Dr. HOUGHTON'S PEPSIN is sold by nearly all the dealers in fine drugs and Popular Medicines throughout the United States. It is prepared in Powder and in Fluid form—and in Prescription vials for the use of Physicians.

PRIVATE CIRCULARS for the use of Physicians may be obtained of Dr. Houghton or his Agents, describing the whole process of preparation and giving the authorities upon which the claims of this new remedy are based. As it is not a secret remedy, no objection can be raised against its use by Physicians in respectable standing and regular practice.

Price, in Fluid form ONE DOLLAR per bottle.

PEPSIN IN POWDER,

Sent by Mail, free of postage.

For convenience of sending to all parts of the country, the DIGESTIVE MATTER OF THE PEPSIN is put up in the form of Powder, with directions to be dissolved in water by the patient. These powders contain just the same matter as the bottles, and will be sent by mail free of postage, for ONE DOLLAR sent (post-paid) to Dr. J. S. HOUGHTON, Philadelphia, Pa.

☞ OBSERVE THIS!—Every bottle of the genuine PEPSIN bears the written signature of J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D., sole proprietor, Philadelphia, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicines. LADD & INGRAHAM, Agents for Bangor. Belfast W. O. Poor; Ellsworth B. Nourse; Bucksport G. J. Bradley & Co.; Oldtown R. F. Kensell; Houlton P. D. Haberty; and by Druggists generally.

THE GENUINE BALM OF COLUMBIA.

IF you wish a rich, luxuriant head of hair free from dandruff and scurf do not fail to procure the genuine Balm of Columbia. In cases of baldness it will more than exceed your expectations. Many who have lost their hair for twenty years have had it restored to its original perfection by the use of this balm. Age, state, or condition appears to be no obstacle whatever. It also causes the fluid to flow with which the delicate hair tubes are filled, by which means thousands (whose hair was gray as the Asiatic Eagle) have had their hair restored to its natural color by the use of this invaluable remedy. In all cases of fever it will be found the most pleasant wash that can be used. A few applications only are necessary to keep the hair from falling out. It strengthens the roots, it never fails to impart a rich glossy appearance, and as a perfume for the toilet it is unequalled. It holds three times as much as other imitations called hair restoratives, and is more effectual.
